

2010 Safe Summer Initiative Grant Application

The City of San Jose is now accepting applications for its Safe Summer Initiative Grant (SSIG) Program. The SSIG program will make available mini-grants for projects that provide San Jose youth, ages 6-18, with unique recreational and/or educational opportunities during June through September 2010. Some examples of summer activities include, art and sports activities, day camps, educational workshops, academic enrichment, field trips and/or other opportunities that keep youth safe, active and engaged in pro-social behaviors

TO APPLY: The grant application will be available from February 15, 2010 until March 12, 2010 on WebGrants, the City's online Grants Management System. All proposers need to register to access the website. Registration with WEBGRANTS is free. To register and access the application, please go to <http://grants.sanjoseca.gov/index.do>.
