For City Council, Elect...David Cohen

Councilmember David Cohen is running for reelection to this business-heavy district that includes Alviso and much of North San Jose. Originally elected with the strong support of labor, Cohen has proven to be a smart and independent thinker on the council who deserves a second term.

A chemical engineer and manager of the computational modeling group at Lam Research, which designs and builds products for semiconductor manufacturing, Cohen served on the Berryessa Union School Board for 14 years before he won the council seat in 2020.

Cohen supports the conversion of downtown office space to housing if market conditions will support it.

Cohen has served a solid first council term and deserves another.

FOR CITY COUNCIL

Councilmember David Cohen's District 4 Action Plan

- ✔ Provide more Emergency Interim Housing and mental health support services, job training, and placement assistance to help the homeless become self-sustaining.
- ✔ Increase police officer staffing to reduce 911 emergency response times and improve community policing.
- ✔ In consultation with District 4 residents, responsibly develop North San Jose to include neighborhood amenities, small businesses, and housing that is affordable for working families.
- ✔ Protect our creeks and open spaces and increase the number of parks in District 4.
