Welcome Back CAG Members

It has been almost a year since we last gathered to share updates to our current En Movimiento projects.

Let's explore what we've been up to and see what's in store for us at our upcoming meeting on Wednesday February 28th, 2024 at 5:30pm via Zoom.

ISSUE #6

San Antonio Street Updates

The San José Department of Transportation and the Department of Public Works have continued working on the recommended construction and design changes to the San Antonio Quick-Build Project. To access the full report, visit the En Movimiento webpage or click here.

Converting Protected Bike Lanes to Buffered Bike Lanes

The protected bike lanes on San Antonio St. between Sunset Ave. and Scharff Ave. were reverted to buffered bike lanes in Summer 2023.

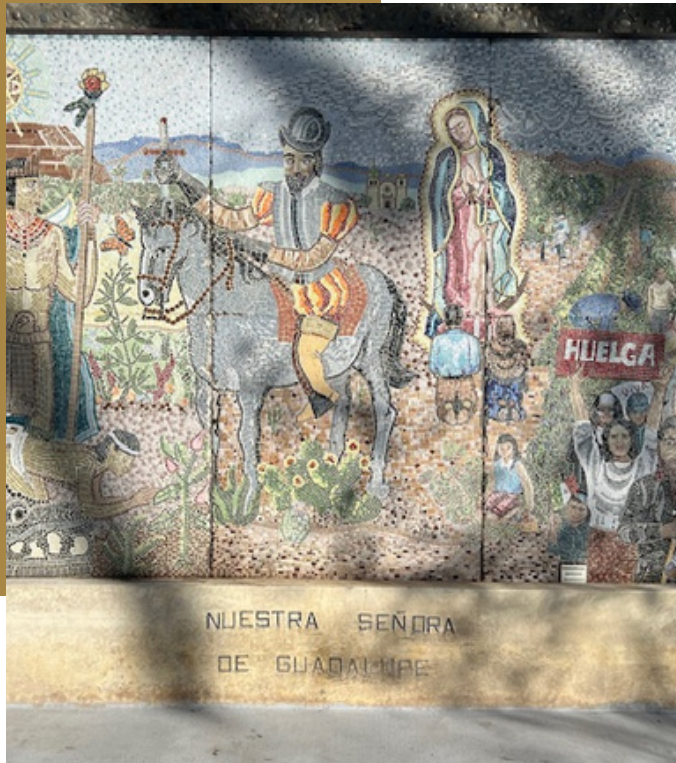

Traffic Calming Between 24th St. and King Rd.

We have received the additional set of traffic calming recommendations for this segment from the DOT traffic engineers. Now, we are in the process of locating funding for implementation.

Traffic Circle Hardening

The DOT is currently in the process of rebidding this project. We expect a contract to be awarded early 2024, with construction expected to begin Summer 2024.

Quick-Strike Movement

After incorporating community feedback into the final designs, four of the corridors have been slated to have chicane treatments removed. You can view the preliminary designs and access community meetings on the Quick-Strike webpage.

Construction begins
Spring 2024

Santa Clara St. Re-Envisioning Project

The City has issued a Request for Proposal (RFP) and is in the process of evaluating bids. For more information on this project contact Nicolas Frey at nicholas.frey@sanjoseca.gov.

McLaughlin Complete Streets – Transit Boarding Islands

While installation of the transit boarding islands was scheduled for early Fall 2023, we received higher-than-expected initial bids and are currently in the process of rebidding this project. Contract awards are expected to be issued early 2024, with construction projected to begin Summer 2024.

King Road Updates

Phase two outreach for this project is continuing through early 2024 with our completed King Road Complete Streets Plan scheduled for Spring 2024. For more information on what we have heard and the solutions we have proposed to the community visit our King Road Complete Streets webpage for an opportunity to weigh in on the new designs or see a list of scheduled events. If you would like to learn more about this project, please email the project manager, Wilson Tam at wilson.tam@sanjoseca.gov.

King Rd. project manager, Wilson Tam, will be presenting a comprehensive update at our meeting on the 28th.

Five Wounds Urban Village Updates

In late 2023, the City of San José and the VTA hosted the fourth community workshop as part of the ongoing Five Wounds Urban Village (FWUV) update. Hosted in-person at San Jose High School, workshop #4 focused specifically on transportation elements in the FWUV plan. The fifth and final workshop will be facilitated as an open house, where the community will be invited to interact with the plan in its completed form. For more information on the FWUV outreach and workshop efforts you can visit the webpage at this link here. For more information on this project, please email the project manager, Peter Rice at peter.rice@sanjoseca.gov.

Five Wounds project manager, Peter Rice, will be presenting a comprehensive update at our meeting on the 28th.
