- a. Direct staff to commission an analysis that estimates the net fiscal impact of several job and housing growth scenarios, as part of the General Plan Major Review. The intent of this analysis would be to provide context as to the fiscal benefit that the City could expect to derive from an increased ratio of jobs to employed residents. Staff should consider analyzing the following scenarios:
 - 1) The job and housing growth included in the 2040 general Plan as it currently stands, which would result in a 1.3 jobs/employed residents ratio.

- 2) The growth scenario recommended by staff at the January 28, 2016 General Plan Task Force Meeting, which would result in a 1.1 jobs/employed residents ratio.
- 3) The Alternative 2 and Alternative 3 growth scenarios included in the September 2015 demographic projection conducted by the Center for the Continuing Study of the California Economy as part of the General Plan Major review. Alternative 2 would result in a 0.86 ratio and Alternative 3 would result in a 0.9 ratio.
- b. Direct staff to inform the General Plan Task Force of the estimated fiscal benefit of increasing the jobs/employed residents ratio contained in the 2010 ADE fiscal analysis report. Staff should contextualize the findings in the report for the Task Force, and should provide a written explanation as to what staff believes the implications of these findings are, if any, for the way San Jose uses the jobs/employed residents ratio to set General Plan policy.
