

is projected to increase per the Mayor's June Budget Message which restores O&M subsidies to pre-recession levels and also provides a small percentage increase for inflation. The new O&M amount for SJSU is projected to be $315,000, pending the Council's approval of the Annual Report on October 22, 2019.

ANALYSIS

As submitted by SJSU in its proposal to operate the Hammer Theatre, the core programmatic business model encompasses:

1. SJSU programming: cultural and other events (including concerts, plays, exhibits, lectures, etc.) created by SJSU academic programs and vetted by a campus committee to ensure that the offerings are suitable for the scale and character of the facility and are likely to appeal to diverse local and student audiences;
2. SJSU sponsored programming: sponsored by SJSU academic and other units for the benefit of the university and the community, including co-produced theater and other cultural programming between SJSU and outside cultural organizations; and
3. Community rentals: the tiered rental model encompasses rental of all performance and reception spaces at the facility, including the auditorium, Hammer 4 (4th floor rehearsal studio/black box theater), the rooftop terrace, downstairs Curtain Call Café, the VIP lounge, and lobby

All policies regarding rentals, safety, employment, and facility use are consistent with SJSU's broader university policies.

To support the success of this partnership during the initial incubation years, SJSU has convened the Hammer Theatre Advisory Group (HTAG), a team comprised of SJSU faculty, City, and community advisors. Initially meeting monthly in the early stages of implementation, HTAG is now convened as necessary once or twice year. The City is currently represented by Councilmember Raul Peralez, Arts Commission member Richard James, and Director of Cultural Affairs Kerry Adams Hapner.

Highlights of Accomplishments To Date Under SJSU's Management of the Hammer Theatre

SJSU has laid a solid foundation for a sustainable operating model which retains the Hammer Theatre as a vital arts and cultural anchor in the downtown and supports the educational mission of SJSU. The City's partnership with SJSU to operate the Hammer Theatre has provided consistent and high quality cultural programming in the iconic downtown venue.

Programming: Under SJSU management, Hammer Theatre programming continues to reflect a rich diversity of offerings by a variety of producers including SJSU, community arts and nonprofit groups and national touring entities. The full calendar of events for the FY2018-2019 season is included as Attachment A. SJSU maintains a dedicated website for the Hammer Theatre (<http://hammertheatre.com>) with online ticket selling capability and produces programming brochures to promote the fall and spring performance season. See Attachment B for most recent brochure.

Programming accomplishments during the past season include:

- Annual attendance of over 57,000, an increase of 6% from the prior year.
- Almost 200 performances in the Hammer Theatre, a 17% increase from the prior year.
- Upheld tradition of the Hammer Theatre as a place to see high quality theater, with one-quarter of its offerings focused on theater (48 performances).
- High quality productions for the community produced by SJSU including Frankenstein @ 200 (talks, screenings and radio play), Urinetown: The Musical, American Night, The Ballad of Juan Jose, Leonard Bernstein's MASS, Pasquale Esposito, and The Dreamer Project.
- Over one-third of performances presented by community-based groups such as San Jose Jazz and Cinequest, as well as other local cultural organizations such as New Ballet, San Jose Dance Theatre, Grupo Folklorico Los Laureles, San Jose Youth Symphony, Starting Arts, EnActe Arts and Ballet Folkorico Fuego Neuvo.
- Partnership with Emory Entertainment to bring national touring productions to San Jose including Nat King Cole Christmas and Men Are From Mars, Women Are From Venus.
- Increased audiences for highly acclaimed National Theater Live and National Geographic Live.
- Continuation of ArtTech, a new presenting series featuring innovative works that combine art and technology.
- Increased activation of the plaza surrounding the theater with popular and free public events such as International Jazz Day, South First Fridays monthly art walk, and Theatre Plaza Celebration which attracted 3,700 people over two nights to see aerial dancers perform on the walls of the Hammer Theatre in late September 2018.
- Provided family-friendly winter holiday programming featuring local and regional and national productions for residents and visitors, including The New Ballet's popular San Jose Nutcracker which features historical references to the history and heritage of Santa Clara Valley.

Staffing: After a ramp-up phase in the first year of the agreement, SJSU has operated fully staffed since the second year with four full-time experienced senior managers who have strong qualifications in production management, client services and patron support. Hammer Theatre staffing is currently comprised of seven full-time staff and two part-time staff. The professional staff are supported by a cadre of volunteers and paid student assistants who gain valuable experience that gives them an edge in securing future jobs in the arts or related disciplines.

Staffing remains consistent with the following highlights:

- Mr. Christopher Burrill, a veteran arts administrator, has provided experienced leadership for the Hammer Theatre since June 2016. Key senior leadership positions in client and patron services and production have also remained consistent.
- Faculty and staff in the College of Humanities and the Arts develop marketing materials for the Hammer Theatre, assisted by qualified student interns, and a contracted publicist provides targeted publicity for presenting programs.
- Partnership with International Alliance of Technical Stage Employees (IATSE) provides students with the opportunity to earn credit towards their journey person card while working with IATSE professionals. This arrangement helps reduce technical costs for theater users while providing a new pipeline for emerging technical professionals.

Facility Maintenance and Improvements: Under the agreement, SJSU is responsible for performing maintenance on the interior of the facility, preventive maintenance of the building systems and capital repairs. The City is responsible for exterior facility maintenance and internal building systems that have reached the end of their usual life. The City and SJSU jointly address facility issues that require coordination, and SJSU provides input in the City's multi-year Capital Improvement Plan (CIP) for the Hammer Theatre.

In the first year, both the City and SJSU made significant initial capital investments to bring the facility and its technical theater equipment to competitive standards. The City's start-up capital investment of $900,000 funded critical building and safety systems and repairs and upgrades to theater technical controls. SJSU's start-up investment of $1.5M funded new lighting, sound and audio-visual equipment, state-of-the-art orchestra shell system and other upgrades. City and SJSU shared costs for upgrading the digital signs with advanced electronic features.

In each successive year, both the City and SJSU have continued to make capital investments in the Hammer Theatre to maintain the facility at professional standards. In FY2018-2019, the City's capital investments primarily focused on replacement of carpet in the theater auditorium and other areas and on the upgrade of HVAC controls which is part of a larger phased project for overall HVAC refurbishment. Comprehensive updates to the Heating, Ventilation and Air Conditioning (HVAC) system to improve operations and energy efficiency are a high priority for SJSU. This input is balanced with the needs of the City's other cultural facilities.

Progress Towards a Fiscally Sustainable Model: SJSU tracks the Hammer Theatre as its own cost center according to a fiscal year that is aligned with the City. The FY2018-19 operating budget for the Hammer Theatre remained relatively steady at $2.48M. In addition to the City's $285,000 O&M subsidy, SJSU's annual appropriation has remained at $1.35M, while its appropriation to support start-up costs has declined by approximately 75% to $74,000, reflecting a decrease in expenses associated with start-up. Despite a reduction in start-up cost allocation, the other sources of revenues for Hammer Theatre operations show an overall increase of 40%, due to robust increases in income from rentals and presenting activities. At the end of FY2018-2019, SJSU reported that revenues for the Hammer Theatre exceeded expenses by $73,609, not counting capital-related expenses.

Operating the Hammer Theatre as a performing arts facility is an expensive undertaking with significant costs in both operating and capital expenses. In FY2018-2019, SJSU reported capital maintenance and repair expenses of approximately $300,000 and continues to raise questions about the adequacy of the City's O&M subsidy given the high cost of facility operations and maintenance and their limited capacity for additional investment. As with the other City-owned cultural facilities managed by nonprofit partners, the City provides an operations and maintenance subsidy that is intended to partially offset the costs, but operators understand that they have the primary financial responsibility for facility operations as a benefit for utilizing the property without rent and with maximum flexibility.

To increase revenue for future years, SJSU has launched a Friends of the Hammer fundraising initiative to cultivate individual donors at multiple benefit levels. The initiative also includes specific sponsorship opportunities to support Hammer Presents events. In addition, to continue to further catalyze the growth of rental income, especially those with broad audience appeal and a potential for multi-year commitments, the Office of Cultural Affairs is continuing to set aside up to $50,000 from Transient Occupancy Tax funds in FY2019-2020. These incentives have proven successful in reducing the initial risk of investing in a new market and have helped bring high quality productions with broad appeal to the Hammer Theatre.

Next Steps

Staff has begun working with SJSU to develop a longer-term contract for approval by City Council prior to the June 30, 2020 expiration date. At this time, it is not expected that there will be major changes to primary elements of the agreement. City Council, through the Community and Economic Development Committee (CEDC) and Arts Commission, will continue to receive semi-annual progress updates.

Shanghai Quartet

Hammer Presents
10/12 @ 7:30PM
One of the world's foremost chamber ensembles, the Shanghai Quartet's elegant style melds the delicacy of Eastern music with the emotional breadth of Western repertoire, allowing it to traverse musical genres including traditional Chinese folk music, masterpieces of Western music, and cutting-edge contemporary works.

Kitka Women's Vocal Ensemble w/ Hasmik Harutyunyan

Hammer Presents
10/19 @ 7:30PM
Founded in 1979 as an offshoot of the Westwind International Folk Ensemble, Kitka began as a grassroots group of amateur singers from diverse ethnic and musical backgrounds who shared a passion for the stunning dissonances, asymmetric rhythms, intricate ornamentation, and resonant strength of traditional Eastern European women's vocal music.

Black Cab Jazz is a brand new collaboration between San Jose Jazz, San José State University, and the Hammer Theatre, bringing to you an intimate cabaret experience featuring some of the best names in modern jazz.

Black Cab Jazz Series: Kendrick Scott

10/20 @ 7:00PM
Drummer and composer Kendrick Scott kicked off his Blue Note contract four years ago with We Are The Drum, earning rave reviews and reiterating how Oracle, Scott's long-running working group, is one of the most thoughtfully powerful jazz bands of its generation.

Black Cab Jazz Series: Quiana Lynell

11/8 @ 7:00PM
In 2017, Quiana Lynell made her salient mark on the jazz-and-beyond musical world as a wise, heartfelt, warm vocalist whose voice is singular in its soul, intensity, ecstasy, and outright spiritual courage. When Lynell takes the stage, she guides listeners on a journey where "jazz collides with soul", allowing the simplest of melodies to entrance the listener.

Storm Large

Hammer Presents

Shannon Wild: Pursuit of the Black Panther

1/29 @ 10:00AM (student)
1/29 @ 7:30PM

Wildlife photographer and cinematographer Shannon Wild is a passionate conservationist who works wherever the wildlife calls. In her 15 years documenting wildlife, she's been mauled by a cheetah, charged by an elephant, and bitten countless times by snakes and lizards. But her most recent assignment might prove her most difficult yet: producing a documentary about a rare black panther—the only one living in 250 square miles of dense forest in southern India.

Kakani Katija: Designed by Nature

2/12 @ 7:30PM
2/13 @ 10:00AM (student)

A former member of the U.S. International Figure Skating Team, bioengineer Kakani Katija now studies the graceful movements of life below the surface. Join her for a fascinating look at one of the least explored ecosystems on our planet—the ocean's midwaters—and learn how its inhabitants could lead to breakthroughs in bio-inspired design.

Kara Cooney: When Women Ruled the World

5/20 @ 7:30PM
5/21 @ 10:00AM (student)

When it comes to women in power, we've come a long way...right? Join Dr. Kara Cooney, professor of Egyptology, for a look at a time in ancient history when women ruled the world. Often neglected in the history books, these women were considered exceptions to the rule, political pawns in a patriarchal society. But their power and influence is undeniable. What can we learn from how these women ruled? Dr. Cooney shares some illuminating answers.

David Guttenfelder: A Rare Look, North Korea to Cuba 4/1 @ 7:30PM

From North Korea to Cuba, David Guttenfelder has gained unprecedented, intimate access to nations isolated by politics, using his cameras to examine the way people really live and making connections around the world through social media. His talent for crossing long-closed borders has led to some of National Geographic's most revealing geopolitical photo essays, as well as connecting people around the world through social media platforms like Instagram.

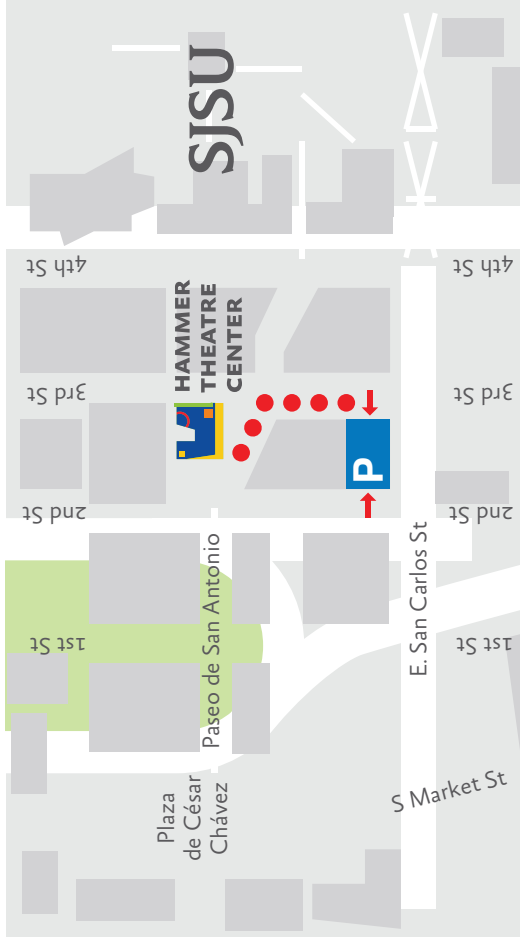

“...unbelievable behind-the-scenes stories and stunning images and video—live onstage.”
