The Mayor has identified – and the Council has agreed – that early childhood education is a priority in San José. Our public libraries are the foundation of a strategy of developing the critical thinking skills and social skills needed for success in adulthood from an early age. This is an additional objective in addition to the many programs and functions our public libraries already serve. The Berryessa and Educational Park branch libraries in District 4 have requested funding for projectors, screens, and wireless equipment to conduct community outreach and do their good works. Our libraries should not be denied this simple request.
