THE CITY

Known as the “Capital of Silicon Valley,” the City of San José plays a vital economic and cultural role anchoring the world’s leading region of innovation. Encompassing 178 square miles at the southern tip of the San Francisco Bay, San José is Northern California’s largest city and the 10th largest city in the nation. With more than one million residents, San José is one of the most diverse large cities in the United States. San José’s transformation into a global innovation center has resulted in one of the largest concentrations of technology companies and expertise in the world, including major tech headquarters like Cisco, Adobe, Zoom, Samsung, PayPal, and eBay as well as start-ups and advanced manufacturing.

San José’s quality of life is unsurpassed. Surrounded by the Diablo and Santa Cruz mountain ranges and enjoying an average of 300 days of sunshine a year, residents have easy access to the beaches along the California coast including Santa Cruz, Monterey, and Carmel; Yosemite and Lake Tahoe in the Sierra Nevada; local and Napa Valley wine country, and the rich cultural and recreational life of the entire Bay region.

San José has received accolades for its vibrant neighborhoods, healthy lifestyle, and diverse attractions from national media including Business Week and Money magazines. The downtown area is home to high-rise residential projects, theaters, museums, and diverse entertainment attractions such as live music and theater, cafes, restaurants, and professional sports. Inquiring minds are served by the Tech Interactive museum, the San José Museum of Art, and many local cultural and entertainment venues. Nineteen public school districts and over 300 private and parochial schools provide residents with a range of educational choices. Universities in and near the city include San José State University, Santa Clara University, Stanford University, and three University of California campuses.

The San José area is powered by one of the most highly educated and productive populations in America. More than 40% of the workforce has a bachelor’s degree or higher, compared with 25% nationally, while 40% of San José residents are foreign born, and 50% speak a language other than English at home. San José is proud of its rich cultural diversity and global connections, and the essential role the City plays in connecting residents and businesses to the nation and the world.

In 2011, the City adopted Envision San José 2040, a long-term growth plan that sets forth a vision and a comprehensive road map to guide the City’s anticipated growth through the year 2040. The Plan proactively directs significant anticipated growth in new homes and workplaces into transit-accessible, infill growth areas and supports evolution toward a more urban landscape and lifestyle.

San José is proud of its rich cultural diversity and global connections, and the essential role the City plays in connecting residents and businesses to the nation and the world.

CITY GOVERNMENT

The City of San José is a full-service Charter City and currently operates under a hybrid Council-Manager form of government. The City Council consists of 10 Council Members elected by district and a Mayor elected at-large. The City Manager, who reports to the Council, and the executive team provide strategic leadership that supports the policy-making role of the Mayor and the City Council and motivates and challenges the organization to deliver high quality services that meet the community's needs. The City actively engages with the community through Council-appointed boards, commissions, and project specific engagement opportunities.

In addition to providing a full range of municipal services including police and fire, San José operates an international airport, municipal water system, a regional wastewater treatment facility, over 200 neighborhood and regional parks, an accredited zoo, and a library system with 24 branches. The City also oversees convention, cultural, and hospitality facilities that include the San José McEnery Convention Center, Center for the Performing Arts, California Theatre, Mexican Heritage Plaza, and the SAP Center San José – home of the National Hockey League's San José Sharks.

City operations are supported by 6,592 full time equivalent positions and a total budget of almost $4.8 billion for the 2020-2021 fiscal year. San José is dedicated to maintaining the highest fiscal integrity and earning high credit ratings to ensure the consistent delivery of quality services to the community. Extensive information regarding San José can be found on the City's website at www.sanjoseca.gov.

THE OFFICE OF THE CITY MANAGER

The Office of the City Manager provides strategic leadership that supports the Mayor and City Council in making public policy decisions and ensures the organization is delivering cost-effective services that meet the needs of our community with the highest standards of quality and customer service. The City Manager's Office also serves to guide fiscal and change management, the building and development of our workforce, and development of long term, data-driven strategies to invest in the City's future.

The City Manager has identified the following eight enterprise priorities which are the primary focus of the City Manager's Office for the next several years:

COVID-19 Pandemic: Community and Economic Recovery:

No event in living memory has been more painful or traumatic for our community than the COVID-19 pandemic and economic crisis which exacerbated existing inequalities. In this moment, our biggest challenge and our biggest opportunity is to foster an equitable recovery to a "Better Normal." The journey to healing, recovery and resilience will require unprecedented effort, resources, and creativity.

Recovery is not for us to do alone, rather it must be done with the community, for the benefit of those most burdened by the crisis, guided by their wisdom, tapping into their potential, and building on their deep enduring strength.

Emergency Management and Preparedness: No issue is more important than the lives and safety of our residents. The City has more work to do to ensure San José is well-prepared for earthquakes and other disasters, particularly for those who are most vulnerable. As a City, we will do more to be prepared for emergencies and commit to this priority with relentless attention and support.

Creating Housing and Preventing Homelessness: All people in San José need a place they can call home, and feel they belong as a vital part of the city around them. If we are to welcome everyone home to San José, we must address the housing crisis and homelessness that confront our City. Our Mayor and Council have set a goal of adding 25,000 residential units in the next five years – including 10,000 affordable units. Assisting our existing homeless residents requires the City begin to work outside traditional silos and align amongst several public and private partnerships to creatively and effectively address the challenge.

Safe, Vibrant, and Inclusive Neighborhoods and Public Life:

The diverse mosaic of people who live, work and play in San José deserve vibrant public spaces and places that are beautiful, clean, safe and inclusive. The people of San José need community spaces that bring them together across generations, cultures, and points of view.

Building the San Jose of Tomorrow with a Downtown for Everyone:

San José has a bold plan that envisions a more urban, connected, and livable city by 2040. Making this a reality will require driving private development and ensuring those investments create great places. The approval processes must be clear, consistent and easy to use for everyone, and move at the speed of business, not bureaucracy. The center piece of these efforts, our Downtown plan, is a complex mosaic of new train lines, large offices mixed with vibrant street front retail, urban housing, and creative public spaces that we must get right.

Smart, Sustainable, and Reliable City 21st Century Infrastructure:

Competing in the global economy and addressing climate imperatives requires updating our energy, water, waste, transportation, and internet connectivity infrastructure, as well as translating traditional infrastructure such as roads and streetlights into 21st century infrastructure. From the launch of a Clean Energy program, long-term investments in the Regional Wastewater Facility and San José International Airport, and new strategies for Broadband and Digital Inclusion, as well as Automated/Electric Vehicles, we must focus on developing smart, sustainable, and reliable infrastructure to shape America's next great city.

Strategic Fiscal Positioning and Resource Deployment: We will continue to be both strategic and responsible in how we manage and balance the City's $4.8 billion budget as well as smart and efficient in how we serve our community. We will always look for opportunities to be cost-effective in all aspects of our service delivery system while working to ensure equity and inclusion in how our services are delivered. If new or expanded revenues are considered, we will minimize impacts to our tax, rate, and fee payers to the extent possible.

Powered By People: We recognize that our almost 6,600 employees power the City of San José and our success as a City is dependent on our ability to create a dynamic and engaged workforce. Our employees' ability to provide excellent service is strengthened when we invest in attracting talent, providing opportunities for career growth, enabling an environment focused on health, safety, and wellness, and retaining a diverse workforce in a workplace that is equitable and inclusive.

ABOUT THE COMMUNITY AND ECONOMIC RECOVERY TEAM

The newly created Community and Economic Recovery Team (Recovery Team) in the City Manager's Office is comprised of the following positions: Director, Assistant to the City Manager, Executive Analyst, and Staff Specialist. The Recovery Team, once hired, will provide strategic leadership for and oversight of the projects and policies required to advance the City Manager's COVID-19 Pandemic: Community + Economic Recovery Enterprise Priority. Enterprise project areas include: Housing Stabilization; Re-Employment + Workforce Development; Small Business Recovery; Food + Necessities Distribution; Digital Equity; Child Care Learning Pods, and Build Back Better + Recovery Taskforce + Al Fresco Forever. A May 4, 2021 City Council Study Session details the vision, initiatives, and organizational structure that will advance this Enterprise Priority, which aims to foster an equitable recovery to a "Better Normal".

While much of the programmatic work related to these projects is occurring within City Departments, including the Housing Department, Library Department, Parks, Recreation, and Neighborhood Services Department, as well as the City Manager's Office of Economic Development, the Recovery Team is responsible for efficient and effective cross-departmental coordination with departmental project leads. The Team will also work in close partnership with the City Manager's Office of Racial Equity, City Manager's Budget Office, Finance Department, and City Manager's Office of Emergency Management, each of which have important administrative recovery functions. As the City's priorities are advanced through departmental efforts, the Recovery Team will ensure robust internal and external communication and collaboration through a number of bodies including, but not limited to: community partners, City Departments, key stakeholder groups and taskforces, City Council, and City Council Committees. The team also will oversee recovery efforts related to a) data, performance metrics, and mapping, b) communications and community engagement, and c) federal and state stimulus advocacy.

THE POSITION

As a member of the City Manager's Office and the City's Senior Staff Leadership Team, the Director of the Community and Economic Recovery Team will report directly to the City Manager, with day-to-day oversight from two Deputy City Managers who are the executive sponsors of the City Manager's COVID-19 Pandemic: Community and Economic Recovery Enterprise Priority. The position is integral for the City to recover from the COVID-19 pandemic and will be required to resolve complex administrative matters and support city-wide inter-departmental policy analysis and implementation, with an explicit focus on advancing racial equity and ensuring that the communities hardest hit by the pandemic are at the forefront of recovery efforts—listening and working with impacted residents, small businesses, and nonprofits is essential.

Strong communication and coordination skills will be critical. The position will coordinate with and act as an internal and external liaison on behalf of the City Manager with community partners, City Departments, key stakeholder groups and taskforces, City Council, and City Council Committees, as appropriate. As a creative and collaborative leader, the Director position will have a substantial capacity for managing, augmenting, and implementing a number of high-level projects simultaneously and in a timely manner, ensuring City policies are upheld and that both internal objectives and community needs are met to the extent possible. The Director must also coordinate internal working groups to advance Senior Staff understanding of the intersectionality of issues in order to pursue wholistic, data- and community-driven solutions. This later work requires an ability to understand and interpret spatial data and mapping, as well as the ability to coordinate dataset gathering and integration. The ability to support strategic federal and state stimulus advocacy is also required.

The Director will have a passion for public service, believe in the values of people, equity, dignity, empathy, and action to drive recovery efforts, and be driven by a specific desire to make a difference in the City of San José.
