Destination Events in San Jose

The OEDCA special events staff coordinate and authorizes outdoor special events which drive our cultural, community and economic development goals. After two years, the number of events and attendees are climbing back towards pre-pandemic levels. In the calendar year of 2019, before mask-wearing and COVID-19 became a part of everyday life, there were 97 events held throughout Downtown San Jose with a total of 2,042,848 attendees. From 2020 – 2021, event planning was halted or extremely limited. From March 2020 through June 15, 2021, only nine events were allowed by the State of California and the County of Santa Clara's standards. Altogether, those nine events generated 642,939 attendees – showing that the city was still craving social interaction and experiences. On June 15, 2021, the requirements and guidelines affecting special events drastically changed and opened the door for many event organizers to return. Since the June 2022 announcement, 46 events have returned to Downtown San Jose and brought 1,616,714 attendees back to the public outdoor space. and look forward to 2022 bringing more events to the community.

It has been a busy season as annual events return, and many new ones are coming up. In April, San Jose 8k and Half Marathon returned with hundreds of runners going through the streets of downtown San Jose, Japantown, The Alameda, The Rose Garden, and ending at Santana Row with a post-event festival. In addition, the fun-filled, culturally rich, Nikkei Matsuri Festival and Japantown Fun Run/Walk took place on the same day in San Jose Japantown. The Culture Night Market continued its series of events at Eastridge Mall and the Westfield Oakridge Mall parking lots. Highlighting local artists, chefs, and musicians, Culture Night Market has created a fresh new look for evening markets. They have now added Coronado Ave. into their rotating event spaces and will continue programming into the spring. PRNS also brought back the spring Viva CalleSJ activation. This open-streets program creates a space for everyone to join in whether they're on bikes, walking, skateboarding, or on roller skates; participants can enjoy special performances, vendors, and food trucks at several locations along the route. The event on May 1st stretched from the School of Arts and Culture at Mexican Heritage Plaza to downtown, Japantown, and to Parque de los Pobladores. Mark your calendars for the next Viva CalleSJ on June 12th!
